LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Governor Porter, the Avalanche, Pis-tols and faxes. EDITORS APPEAL-It is funny to see EDITORS APPEAL—It is funny to see how readily the Avalanche jumps at cor clusions favorable to its assertions. This morning, in reply to my article of yesterday, itsays Governor Forter "travels through Tennessee with deadly weapons concealed on his person;" and asks Simon Suggs to produce a law allowing this special privilege. The Avalanche wishes Simon Suggs to admit its broad charge even before it is proven. The editor is a lawyer, and knows that Simon Suggs will first demand that the charge shall be proven. Look at it, in the length and breadth of its sweep. The Avalanche pointedly and directly charges that Governor Porter "travels through Tennessee, with deadly weapons concealed on his person." Is this so? Has the Avalanche know it to be true? Has it any proof of it save its own bold assertion? Has it not published, or has it not reen published the Avalanche proved this to be true? Does the Avalanche know it to be true? Has it any proof of it save its own bold assertion? Has it not published, or has it not seen published the statement that Governor Porter has been notified that Thomas would attack him at Snelbyville? Hearing this, was it strange that Governor Porter should prepare himself for the attack? Did Porter attack Thomas? Was not the fact the other way? Did not Thomas attack Porter? Why will the Avalanche be so exceedingly loose in words and in its statement of facts? There is a very good povel called Put Yourself in his Place. If the editor of the Avalanche had had an imposing, sad looking hickory raised to strike him by Simon Suggs, who is always glad to shake Kellar's friendly hand, would he not have done just what Porter did? To sak such a question is to answer it; and that pistol charge is unworthy of the Avalanche. Now, a word about "State bonds" and "coupons," "taxes," etc. If the debt on the State is heavy, let me ask who swelled it to its present crushing proportions? Was it the party now supporting Governor Porter, or was it the Radical party—the party now supporting Thomas and Browniow—the party now supporting Randolph and Tom Hamilton and the balance of the Radical outfit? I lid the Democratic party, now supporting Porter, swell the cratic party, now supporting Porter, swell the State debt up to twenly million do lars? Was it not the Radical party that di his? Was it not the Brownlow party? not the "imported knavery," as Horace reeley called the carpetbaggers? Was it not That is the neat dodge of the Avalanche and its allies. It harps upon the enormous debt created by the Radical party, and then charges that any attempt to pay it is infamous. The payment of the debt by Democra's is outrageous; the creation of the debt by the Rada's well, not much of a crime. This is the Avalanche's logic. When the Rada were to rower here, years ago they raised a very large of the control of the debt. is the Avalenche's logic. When the kinds we ee in power here, years ago, they raised a very holy how bowl because their knavery was denounced by the Democratic press. They had no shame about perpetrating this long-continued series of political, social and other crimes, but they didn't want such a d—i fuss made about it. So about the State debt created by them. The payment is the outrage; the fradulent creation of it is a mere nothing. I hope the Avalanche will come down to honest work and not build an argument on its own assertions. Simon Suggs has known Por er for twenty-five years, and his character for retring modesty and universal courtesy belies for twenty-five years, and his character for re-tiring modesty and universal courtesy belies the idea that he relies unon platols to enforce an argument. The election of Thomas will be regarded as a Radical triumph; and the Ava-lanche knows this just as well as it knows that it intends to vote for Hayes and Wheeler, and do all it can to fasten upon the south the party of usurpation and coercion that has so long throttled our people. SIMON SUGGS.

A resolution was adopted regarding the serant-at-arms and city register. It auth em to continue their duties without ference or obstruction, the same, in the opinion of the council, not being affected by the recent action of the legislature abolishing the office of city tax-collector.

A resolution from the board regarding the laying of curbing on Main street, near Webster was governed in A resolution to pay R. C. Williamson $300 as A resolution to pay R. C. Williamson $300 as acting mayor for twenty-seven days service in August, and $303 37 for the same service during the month of September, passed on its second reading.

Alderman Elder's resolution regarding a separate set of tax books for the forty ninth corporate year, the same not to cost over $450, was passed on its third and final reading.

Conneilman Neely offered the following:

Resolved, That the following question be submitted to the city attorney, with the request that he will examine the law and deliver an opinion to the general council as quest that he will examine the law and deliver an opinion to the general council as early as practicable: Is the ax on merchants' capital collected ad valorem a privilege tax?
Has the county court clerk, under the act of the last legislature creating him the tax collector on privileges, any authority to collect tax on merchants' capital?
Referred to the city attorney.
Resolved, That in view of the large amount of tax paid and to be paid by the city of Memphis, and to more securely protect the inter-

Adopted.
Alderman M'Cloy's resolution to fix CliTar-Collector Rawlings's bonds at 25,000, proided be makes settlement once each work, drain a cellar was referred to the city engineer and board of health.

Mr. R. C. Brinkley petitioned to be permitted to make settlement with the city, his littgation involving certain stock in the Memphis and Charleston railroad, purchased by him in 1838, amounting to $100,000. The matter was referred to the finance committee and the city attorney. Mr. Brinkley says in his petition: "I am still anxious to settle this matter and stop further littgation on the subject, and now propose to deliver to the city $25,000 of approved city bonds on the first day of January 1 ext. $3,000 on the first of January thereafter, and $23,000 on the first of January thereafter, and $23,000 on the first of January thereafter, and $23,000 on the first of January 1879, being, with the $23,000 bonds already paid, the full amount of the principal, and the last payment made five years before due according to the contract. If this proposition is accepted, I will not require the city to transfer any of the stock until the last payment of bonds is made, but retain all as security for the unpaid balance."

The subject of refunding a fine of five dollars imposed upon Angela Onetta, a peddling woman who failed to get a license, was discussed for a period, and then laid on the table. A collection was then taken up, and the amount of the fine raised among the councilmen, and the poor woman will get her money back.

A new jury of view is recommended to ex-

The Spleen Is a glanular organ exceedingly vase lar, and situated near the great pouch of the stomach. Its veins form a part of the portal system, and convey the blood which has pa sed through it to the liver, where it mixes again in the general circulation. It is about five inches long, three inches wide and about six ounces in weight in an adult. What special duty is assigned to it in the animal economy, physiologists have as yet undetermined. If its special function be unknown, its enlargement (as in aguecake) is sensibly felt by those who suffer from chills and fever. Amid all the medical discoveries of modern times for preventing inactivity of the liver, and essening the unnatural increase in size of the spleen from its alterative, stimulant, tonic and corrective properties, none is equal to the Home stomach
